THE ELITE24MVP BENEFITS

Basketball is a high-skill, finesse sport that demands far more than raw athletic talent. To truly excel, players must develop a powerful blend of Competitive, Cognitive, Emotional, Mental, Physical, and Synergistic abilities that work together on the court.

That's where the Elite24MVP Process makes the difference.

It goes beyond traditional drills and workouts by teaching young athletes how to intentionally direct and regulate their own development. Instead of hoping talent alone will carry them, players learn to build the daily habits, routines, focus, and resilience required to become the best version of themselves both as athletes and as competitors.

What This Means for Grassroots Athletes, Coaches & Parents

Athletes gain a clear, proven system to accelerate skill growth, sharpen decision-making, strengthen mental toughness, and develop the complete game needed to stand out.

Coaches receive a structured framework that creates more focused, self-motivated players while building a stronger team culture and more efficient practices.

Parents see their child develop not just better basketball skills, but the life skills — discipline, confidence, work ethic, and emotional control — that transfer far beyond the court.

The Elite24MVP isn't just another training program.

It's a complete player development system engineered to help players maximize their potential and move closer to their championship dreams, one purposeful step at a time.

YOUR WITNESS YOUR CHALLENGE

Have you ever dreamed about your “One Shining Moment” — that moment when you step up on the biggest stage and perform at your absolute best?

Most young athletes have. You’ve imagined reaching your full potential and achieving greatness on the court.

We’ve all witnessed the greatness of the All-Stars: Michael Jordan, Kobe Bryant, Stephen Curry, LeBron James, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander, Trae Young and more... But here’s the real question,

Who is the witness to your potential for greatness?

When I was barely six years old, my cousin “Mike” was my witness. He marched me onto the field and boldly announced:

“Coach, this is my cousin.
He might be your next pro-prospect!”

Lol, at least that’s how I remember it! That single moment lit my fire. It was the beginning of my lifelong challenge to become the best I could be.

For the last ten years, I’ve poured everything into studying and refining the process that helps players like you maximize their talent—Become the Best.

"There is a choice you have to make in everything you do.

So keep in mind that in the end, the choice you make, makes you."

THE ELITE24MVP COMMITMENT PLEDGE

I, print your full name here,

Solemnly Pledge To:

1. Commit fully to the process — read it, study it, and become a true student of it every single day.
2. Challenge my current reality daily and push myself to become the best version of me.
3. Strive every day to create my personal masterpiece — on and off the court.
4. Attack the process with an elite mentality and unbreakable focus.
5. Pursue my best with all my heart, mind, and soul.
6. Fill and empty my tank completely every single day—give maximum effort in every training session.
7. Become the exception—rise above average and chase greatness.
8. Compete w/reality every day in pursuit of my best self.

I understand that talent is only the starting point.
Excellence is earned through daily commitment.

CHALLENGE YOUR REALITY

Process Built for those who want to Get Better—Faster.

In competitive basketball talent alone isn't enough and the players who separate themselves are the ones who learn how to train, how to build winning habits, and how to show up consistently—And willing to work in the dark.

It's a complete development system that gives you a clear roadmap to turn your potential into real, measurable improvement. Think of it as your personal playbook for becoming the best version of yourself.

For Players: The Process Playbook is your daily guide to faster skill development. It blends smart individual drills, competitive group training, and team workouts into one seamless system that keeps you progressing all season.

A proven process that helps you:

- Build elite-level habits and routines
- Sharpen your skills with purpose
- Gain confidence and compete at a higher level
- Move closer to your dream every single day

For Teams & Coaches: The Process Playbook becomes your team's development blueprint that helps:

- Build a strong, positive team culture
- Accelerate every player's growth (not just the starters)
- Make your practices more efficient and purposeful
- Raise the overall performance and competitiveness of your entire program

The Elite24MVP is a continuous improvement engine designed specifically for developing players and teams. It accelerates skill growth, fuels player buy-in, strengthens team culture, and puts both players and teams on the fast track to championship potential.

This is not just another trainer or drill book.

The Process turns good athletes into great ones, and great teams into champions!

Disclaimer Personal training might be better than no training. While at the same time, the wrong training might be worse than none.

Just Think About That.

Elite Development Process Concepts

Organization Level	Key Development Actions & Strategies	Journaling—Reflection Practices	Metacognition & Self-Regulated Learning
Duke Basketball	"Blueprint Time" — dedicated daily individual skill + film sessions with player development staff.	Detailed notes in film sessions and individual meetings; progress tracking in staff-guided plans.	Film-based self-evaluation of decision-making; players adjust in real-time.
Gonzaga Bulldogs	Holistic approach: mental skills, character, long-term growth; "Personal Growth" sessions.	Post-game and weekly mental reflections encouraged.	Strong emotional intelligence and mindset regulation; players monitor their own responses to pressure.
Oklahoma Sooners	Dedicated Director of Player Development; performance testing, individualized plans.	Film study notes and performance tracking.	Focus on self-awareness of strengths/weaknesses and tactical adjustments.
Oklahoma State Cowboys	Director of Player Development (e.g., Nelson Hernandez); skill layering and on/off-court progress.	Film analysis and progress documentation.	Emphasis on independent evaluation of execution during practices/games.
ORU Golden Eagles / Tulsa	Player development emphasis in camps and daily work; skill growth under structured coaching.	Game and training reflections common in program culture.	Building self-motivation and game understanding through repeated review.
San Antonio Spurs	Legendary player development system; heavy film study, individualized work, Constraints-Led elements.	Increased film study with assistants; players take notes on execution and adjustments. "Spurs' increased film study part of Mitch Johnson's approach."	Deep problem-solving and adaptation; players learn to analyze "why" behind successes/failures.
OKC Thunder	Elite G-League (Blue) pipeline; structured player development with performance staff.	Post-game and seasonal reflection; growth tracking via staff and self-review.	Resilience and continuous improvement mindset; turning every experience into learning.
Los Angeles Lakers	Mental performance focus; individualized skill + recovery protocols.	Mental skills work includes reflection on emotions and performance (e.g., historical use with players like Metta World Peace).	Arousal regulation, self-talk, and emotional control; "My psychologist helped me deal with emotions..."
Boston Celtics	"Stay Ready Group"; Constraints-Led Approach (CLA) for adaptable skills.	Post-game reports, personal film notebooks, recovery reflection.	Self-regulated deliberate practice; players run personal "experiments" in development sessions.
USA Basketball / PGC Basketball	Progressive LTAD curriculum; deliberate practice + leadership labs.	Daily journaling prompts: "What did you like? What did you learn? What can you improve?" (PGC).	Full self-regulation cycle (plan → monitor → reflect → adapt); metacognitive training for basketball IQ.

Comparing the Elite24MVP to College: Player & Team Development

Aspect	Elite24MVP Process	Top College Programs (Examples)	Alignment Strength
Daily/Weekly Structure	P1–R5–C Cycle + Pro Plan + NextLevel Immersion	Duke's "Blueprint Time" — dedicated daily individual development blocks before/after practice	★★★★★
Self-Regulation & Reflection	Built-in R4 Review/Reflect + Competitive Impact Logs + R5 Reboot	Gonzaga's Personal Growth Mondays (player-only mental sessions) + widespread post-game/film reflection	★★★★★
Mental & Emotional Development	7 Pillars + Emotional/Mental Regulation + Competitive Motor Optimization	Gonzaga (Mark Few): 25-30% of athlete time on mental skills, emotional intelligence, processing pressure/success	★★★★★
Individualized Player Plans	Personalized Competitive Impact Engine diagnostics + Journaling across all experiences: HS/AU/Training	Kentucky (Mark Pope): Dedicated Associate Director of Player Development + individualized roster/performance plans Duke: Added Player Development Specialists + studied best practices to accelerate learning curves	★★★★☆
Integration of All Experiences	Bridges AAU, HS, summer league, training, pickup into one unified thread (2 Playbooks/ year)	College staffs emphasize holistic integration (skills + strength + film + mental) but rarely give players a portable, year-round ownership tool	★★★★★ (Elite24MVP Advantage)
Competitive Impact Focus	Engine (capacity) + Motor (application under pressure) diagnostics	Universal emphasis on "translating practice to games," film-based adjustments, and sustained performance under evaluation pressure (e.g., NCAA live periods)	★★★★★
Long-Term Periodization	Two-Playbook system for seamless AAU → HS → Off-season continuity	College periodized training blocks + LTAD models (USA Basketball influence)	★★★★☆

Elite24MVP Comparison to Professional Development

Aspect	Elite24MVP Process	Top Professional Models (Examples)	Alignment Strength
Daily Cyclical Process	P1–R5–C Cycle + Pro Plan + NextLevel Immersion	NBA daily individual development sessions, film review, and recovery protocols (e.g., Boston Celtics' "Stay Ready Group" player development machine)	★★★★★
Self-Regulation & Reflection	R4 Review/Reflect + Competitive Impact Logs + R5 Reboot	Widespread use of deliberate practice, post-game analysis, and self-regulated learning; mental performance coaches emphasizing habits, visualization, and emotional control	★★★★★
Competitive Impact Focus	Engine (capacity) + Motor (application under pressure) diagnostics	Constraints-Led Approach (CLA) used by NBA teams (e.g., Timberwolves, Pelicans, Cavaliers) to build adaptable decision-making and game-like problem-solving	★★★★★
Individualized Development	Personalized Engine/ Motor tuning via journaling across all experiences	Dedicated Player Development staff and individualized plans; Celtics' success with undrafted/rookie-to-rotation players (Pritchard, Hauser, Queta, etc.)	★★★★★
Mental & Emotional Mastery	7 Pillars + Emotional/ Mental Regulation + Competitive Motor	NBA mental skills training (imagery, self-talk, arousal regulation, resilience under evaluation pressure)	★★★★★
Integration & Periodization	Two-Playbook system bridges AAU, HS, summer, preseason, and playoffs	Holistic integration of skills, strength, film, and recovery with long-term athlete development principles	★★★★☆ (Elite24MVP Advantage)
Learning from Competition	Mandatory Post-Game Impact Logs even after tough showcase games	Emphasis on turning every game (including losses) into data for adaptation and growth	★★★★★

PROCESS HISTORY & ORIGINS

The Continuous Improvement Process is based on principles of Scientific Method and rooted in the writings of antiquity: Aristotle, Galileo, Jesus, and Socrates.

In 1950 Dr. W. Edwards Deming, an American business consultant introduced the (PDCA) cycle for the Continuous Improvement Process while lecturing in Japan. That Quality Improvement Process evolved into the Plan-Do-Study-Act (PDSA) cycle, a systematic process for development and learning in 1990's.

The Elite24MVP Process Evolved from these origins and is based on Deming's strategies, the Principles of Scientific Method, Sports Specific Metacognitive Processes, Self-Regulation and other Continuous Improvement Processes.

DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

The Elite24MVP is both Science and Art — A personal journey which employs a combination of key links that unlock your pursuit of potential greatness.

The Elite24MVP (E24P) is a next level improvement process engineered for developing your championship performance! This continuous improvement process engine (E24P) is Built on Scientific Method systematically aimed at driving development, improvement, learning and pursuit of a players unique elite performance potential.

The Elite24MVP — The Continuous Improvement Process Engine (E24P) Fuels the Art of Basketball innovation and paves or paints the way of improvement unique to each players talent and gifts.

The Process is not confined by rigid order or control. Instead, the process system recognizes the complex chaos of competition and the need for individual improvisation and creativity.

The Art of the Process perceives the person/player as a unique canvas of living potential of imagination, innovation and evolving craft rather than the robotic nature of a machine.

Our focus is placed on players, teams and coaches: and synergistic relationships of team dynamics, while crafting deep understanding of unique potential of people, process and potential.

Our philosophy is based on Truths and Principles rooted in Antiquity as illustrated in the parable of the talent giver.

Players, Parents and Coaches who are not familiar with business processes of continuous improvement might mistake the term “process” as “coach-speak” since generally speaking, coaches encourage players to “trust the process” of hard work and practice.

Elite Player & Team Development requires investing intentional time and action to blockout disadvantages and embrace deliberate advantages.

STUDENT-OF-THE-PROCESS

A Student-of-the-Process will study and learn from the best. We can learn a lot about a commitment to the process from the focus and training regimens of Olympians and Professional athletes.

These athletes invest an enormous amount of time and intentional training efforts in order to “REACH for their BEST” and Pursue their Potential. The Elite athlete is always challenging their reality and competing with themselves.

Let’s look inside their playbook of science backed strategies to see what we can learn about an Elite process.

1. Elite athletes build a Circle of Trusted Experts: Agents, Trainers, and Coaches.
2. Elite athletes build, continually refine, and Own their Path—Their Schedule.
3. Elite athletes invest time, energy and resources in developing, refining, and perfecting Elite skills.
4. Elite athletes invest in their body’s athleticism and fitness: always training to improve skills like strength, endurance, agility, and speed to “REACH” for their potential.
5. Elite athletes invest in a healthy sleep cycle to activate production of human growth hormone which generates muscle growth and energy production.

SELF-REGULATION

An Elite Improvement Process

THE DEVELOPMENT

THE ACTIONS AND THE ELEMENTS

Effective players will learn to self-regulate, assess their own task requirements, set productive goals, and select, integrate, or invent strategies to achieve their goals.

- Players self-monitor their effort and progress as they work thorough and integrate all of daily activities whether planned by their coach, trainer, or through their own industriousness.
- Next level student-athletes will manage their mindset, emotions and motivation as well as adjusting and implement strategies to foster their focus on success.
- Players will learn to own their game by investing deeper into the continual improvement process. Players will learn the art of asking questions, making mental and physical notes, and managing their personal shot clock and other resources in ways that help them to drive their own growth and development. #JustProcessIt

Action—is the process of doing something to achieve an end.

Development Action—is the specific action steps that a player or team will take, in pursuit of a development goal, to achieve the desired habit, improvement, knowledge, skill, or talent.

Activity—is doing something that a person or group does.

Development Activity—is doing a specific strategic activity to gain knowledge, skills, or abilities. The practice of specific actions, relationships, tasks, or programs to improve.

Ponder—As a person thinks in the their heart, so they become. What you focus on grows for good or bad!

Preview and Forethought—Forethought is a cognitive tool: a developmental doorway which connects the human brain to the vast nervous system we in sports call “muscle memory reflex” and technical, tactical and the sensory progress in development.

Repetition (Better Repetition = Better Performance)—Have heard the question, “What is the definition of insanity? Doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results.” So it is, that repetition and refining the action go hand and hand.

Reflection—There are two kinds of reflection to practice in self-regulation.

1. Reflection-in-action is mental rep or reflection performed during a pause while in training, practice or performance. Example: This type of reflection might involve asking yourself how something happened or how you're feeling.

2. Reflection-on-Action is a mental or physical review/reflection that you perform after training, practice or game. Example, this type of reflection can involve asking yourself what happened, what went well, and what you should have done differently.

A Self-Regulated Improvement Process is key in player development, as it unlocks potential and enables players to take control of their own development and progress. The self-regulated player improvement process involves setting goals, monitoring progress, and adjusting strategies in order to achieve those goals.

Following are the basic steps involved in the self-regulation process of player development:

1. Pro-Plan: Start becoming a Pro today. There is not any reason you cannot start thinking like a Pro. This simply requires being honest with yourself and asking yourself a few simple questions every day.

- The “O’s” What do I need to do today to become my best?
- The “X’s” What do I need to eliminate to guard my best development.
- Players need to set S.M.A.R.T. MICRO goals that they want to achieve in their development. Goals should be related to their strengths and weaknesses, and should be challenging but achievable.
- Plan strategies: Once the goals are set, players need to plan strategies to achieve them. This could include specific training routines, practicing certain skills, or seeking out advice and feedback from coaches & mentors.
- Build Your Process On PILLARS That Separate You From Mediocrity.

2. Pro-Preview: Players need to set two appointments a day with themselves to activate Foresight and Positive Self-Talk as a routine and ritual. Forethought/ Preview is the act of thinking ahead and anticipating potential future events or outcomes. It involves considering the possible consequences of actions before they are taken and planning accordingly.

3. Pro-Reps/Performance. The player desiring to become an Elite Player will start preparing to the level they desire to compete at. Players will make it their job to intentionally pursue their potential more than the crowd of their social circle. They will pursue excellence and manage their ShotClock everyday.

4. Pro•Review-Reflection and Feedback: At the end of the self-regulation process, players should reflect on their progress and evaluate their performance. This can help them identify areas where they need to improve, and set new goals for continued development.

PRO-PLAN

verb /prōplan/

1. the strategic process of making development game-plans for achieving your potential.
2. a carefully thought-out strategy or course of actions for becoming the best.
3. the process of preparing a daily game plan w/ keys to victory: become the exception.

PRO-PLAN: A systematic and detailed approach to game planning your daily, weekly, and monthly “Shot Clock” to accelerate and maximize your development potential. It involves setting clear daily goals, breaking them down into intentional actionable steps, executing intentional training (skill-speed-strength-cognition) plans, nutrition plans, recovery strategies, and performance analysis to pursue your elite performance process effectively.

THE Elite24MVP FEEDBACK LOOP

#Elite24
MVP

The Player Development Feedback Loop is an incredibly powerful tool for Players with Collegiate and Professional Dreams and for Parents investing time and resource to help them achieve their talent potential.

A Continuous Feedback Loop from a qualified source provides a continuous cycle of information about a player's performance, allowing them to identify intentionalities for improvement, make adjustments to refine performance, and track the progression of their individual process.

The Player Development Feedback Loop, acted upon in the form of a "Comprehensive Development Plan" leads to straight-forward clarity of purpose that fuels growth and improved competitive performance.

SKILL—COMPETITION—BODY—COGNITION

PILLARS OF POTENTIAL

ATTITUDE—EFFORT—FOCUS—MINDSET—INPUT—COMPETITIVE OUTPUT

NUTRITION—MOTIVATION—PERFORMANCE

Key aspects of a feedback loop in player development:

- Provides Direction of Pro Plan:
Feedback clearly indicates what a player is doing well and where they need to focus their efforts, guiding them towards specific goals.
- Enhances Ownership Self-Awareness:
By receiving feedback, players gain a better understanding of their strengths and weaknesses, enabling them to tailor their intentionalities and train/workout accordingly.
- Empowers and Fuels Improvement:
Positive feedback reinforces good behaviors and encourages players to continue striving for better performance, while constructive criticism provides an opportunity to learn and grow from mistakes.

TAKE·NOTE The most dynamic feedback loop you can seek out is—Become your own truth-teller! By learning to study | critique performance via "practice or game film". Compare/study the decisions, execution and reads on film—to your coaches practice expectations!

WHAT IS A PILLAR?

The definition of "Pillars of Potential" refers to key principles or areas of focus that help athletes improve, bridge gaps in their abilities, and distinguish themselves as top performers.

Here's a clearer breakdown:

1. Accelerate Development: These pillars facilitate faster growth in an athlete's skills and performance levels. They provide a structured approach to training and personal development.

2. Close Talent Gaps: They help identify and address areas where an athlete may be lacking compared to peers. By focusing on these pillars, athletes can enhance weaker aspects of their game, leading to more balanced skill sets.

3. Separate Athletes Who Become the Best: The pillars create a framework that allows elite athletes to differentiate themselves from others. By mastering these principles, they achieve higher levels of performance and success.

PILLARS OF POTENTIAL

KEY COMPONENTS

Technical Skills: Mastering specific skills related to the sport, such as technique, tactics, and strategy, is fundamental for improvement.

Physical Conditioning: Developing strength, speed, agility, and endurance is essential for enhancing athletic performance.

Mental Toughness: Building resilience, focus, and a positive mindset helps athletes perform under pressure and overcome challenges.

Teamwork and Communication: Understanding how to work effectively with teammates and communicate on the field or court is crucial for success in team sports.

Consistency and Commitment: Maintaining a strong work ethic and commitment to training and self-improvement is vital for long-term development.

In summary, the "Pillars of Potential" are Elite Standards: The foundational accelerators that support athletes in their growth, helping them close talent gaps and rise above the distractions to achieve their best as they navigate climbing to the top of their sport. Emphasizing these pillars fuels athletes development.

7. Get Lost in the Process: They fully immerse themselves in their training and development, enjoying the journey and learning from every experience rather than just focusing on outcomes.

In summary, a player with an "Elite Mindset" is someone who approaches their sport with intention and professionalism, prioritizing their growth, studying diligently, and committing to their daily development. They immerse themselves in the process of becoming better athletes and individuals.

5 STAR INPUT

“I prepare to the point where instinct takes over”!

~Stephen Curry

5 Star Elite Input: The definition "The Player That Manages Their Input Owns The Game" emphasizes the importance of controlling various aspects of training and lifestyle to achieve peak performance.

Here's a clearer breakdown:

1. The 24-Hour Clock: This concept highlights the idea that every hour in a player's day can be strategically utilized for improvement. Managing time effectively is crucial for success.

2. Intentional Skill Work: Players focus on targeted skill development during practice, ensuring that each training session has a clear purpose and goals to enhance specific abilities.

3. Strength Work: Emphasizing physical conditioning, players engage in workouts that build their strength, power, and overall athleticism.

4. Mental Work: They invest time in mental training, such as visualization, focus exercises, and developing a strong mindset to enhance performance under pressure.

OWN YOUR GAME

5. Nutrition Work: This involves making conscious choices about diet and nutrition to fuel the body, helping to optimize performance and recovery.

6. Recovery Work: Players prioritize activities that allow their bodies to recover, such as stretching, foam rolling, and other recovery techniques to prevent injury and maintain performance levels.

7. Process Work: They focus on refining their training processes, paying attention to the methods and routines that lead to improvement rather than just the outcomes.

8. Sleep Work: Acknowledging the importance of sleep, players make it a priority to get enough rest for mental clarity and physical recovery.

9. Input Determines Output: This principle suggests that the quality and amount of effort put into these various aspects (input) directly influence the level of performance and success achieved (output).

In summary, a player who "manages their input" focuses on all facets of their training and lifestyle—skills, strength, mental fortitude, nutrition, recovery, process refinement, and sleep. By effectively managing these inputs, they position themselves to excel and take control of their game. 5 STAR IMPACT

9. Relentless Pursuit of Improvement

They are dedicated to continuous growth and progress, consistently seeking ways to enhance their performance and contribute to the team's success.

In summary, a player with an "Elite Competitive Impact" influences their team through their intense drive, focus on self-improvement, and dedication to hard work. They set an example that motivates others and enhance the competitive spirit of the entire team.

5 STAR TEAMWORK

"Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence win championships"

~Michael Jordan

5 Star Elite Teamwork: The definition "The Player that Fuels Elite Teamwork Sacrifices the Me for the We Becomes the Exception and Makes the Right Play" highlights the qualities of a player who prioritizes team success over individual recognition.

Here's a clearer breakdown:

- 1. Fuels Elite Teamwork: This player actively contributes to creating a strong, cohesive team dynamic. They understand that the team's success relies on collaboration and mutual support.
- 2. Sacrifices the Me for the We: They put aside personal desires, stats, or accolades for the benefit of the team. Their focus is on what's best for the group rather than seeking individual glory.
- 3. Becomes the Exception: Such a player stands out as a unique asset to the team due to their selflessness and commitment to teamwork. Their actions differentiate them from those who prioritize personal achievement.
- 4. Makes the Right Play: They consistently make decisions that benefit the team, whether it's passing the ball, playing defensively, or taking a

@ELITE24MVP

PROCESS PLAYBOOK
HARNESSING
The MVP

JUST YEARS OF

PROCESS EXPERIENCE, RESEARCH, AND STUDENT OF DEVELOPMENT

As a certified high school coach who has studied the best for an entire career — I've seen firsthand how structured processes can transform raw talent into elite performance.

I've observed, studied, and borrowed and stolen from coaches at the Pro, Collegiate, High School, and Grassroots level!

I've dug deep into the science and research of those with (PhD) credentials in sports performance, athlete psychology, basketball player development, performance science, and teaching and learning science to prospect for and identify the aspects of human development that the average coach doesn't see.

The Elite24MVP is the product of that journey combined with my background as a State Tournament high school player, coach, with brief experience on D1 college staff.

The Elite24MVP Process, is a powerful framework rooted in scientific principles like self-regulation, metacognition, and continuous improvement—echoing W. Edwards Deming's Plan-Do-Study-Act (PDSA) cycle, which is often applied in coaching to drive team and individual growth.

Deming's model emphasizes iterative refinement: planning actions, executing them, studying results, and acting on insights to improve. E24P adapts this into a basketball-specific cycle—

Pro Plan, Pro Preview, Pro Rep, Pro Review—to accelerate skill mastery, mental toughness, and overall potential.

This guide draws from the Process Playbook to help you, as an aspiring college or pro player, implement the process. It's not a quick fix but a systematic way to "challenge your reality" daily, integrating all your experiences (team practices, individual training, pickup games) into synergistic growth.

By committing to this, you'll build habits that separate you from the pack—fostering basketball IQ, competitive fire, and resilience. Let's break it down step by step, tailored for high-stakes levels where physical, technical, tactical, perceptual, mental, and emotional edges matter most.

Step 1: Commit to the Process

Sign the Pledge & Embracing the Mindset

Before diving in, internalize the E24P's core philosophy: Potential is about "now," not "when." Start by signing a personalized version of the Commitment Pledge from the playbook. This sets your intention and aligns with Deming's emphasis on proactive engagement.

The pledge acts like a psychological anchor. At the high school and college level, it helps players shift from reactive (e.g., just showing up to practice) to proactive (e.g., owning off-court development).

For pros, it's a reminder to treat every day like a contract year. Revisit it weekly to reinforce your "Mamba Mindset" — mindful, relentless pursuit of excellence across physicality (athleticism), technique (skills), tactics (strategies), theory (understanding why), psychology (mental edge), and learning (student-of-the-game).

"Potential is about now, not when!"

Step 2: Understand the MVP Cycle

Your Engine for Continuous Improvement

The E24P is an engineered loop based on Deming's PDSA, visualized as a basketball with arrows: Pro Plan (Plan), Pro Preview (Act/Prepare), Pro Rep (Do), Pro Review (Study). Apply it daily to any aspect of your game—shooting form, defensive reads, conditioning, or even nutrition.

This cycle addresses the playbook's 7 science-backed pillars of performance (implied through benefits like systematic improvement, self-regulation, IQ development, cognition enhancement, experience integration, and holistic growth), building a high-powered culture in your personal development.

PROCESS PHASE	DESCRIPTION	DEMING TIE-IN	Basketball: HS, College & Pro
PRO PLAN	Plan development with intention using the "power of the pen." Answer: "What's the one action today to become my best?" Set S.M.A.R.T. goals (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, Time-bound).	Plan: Define objectives & strategies.	Map your day: E.g., "Improve pull-up jumper efficiency by 10% via 200 focused reps, plus film study of NBA guards like Devin Booker." Eliminate distractions (e.g., limit social media).
PRO PREVIEW	Use prospection (mental time travel) to visualize success. Preview outcomes, anticipate challenges, and rehearse responses.	Act: Implement with foresight.	Before a workout, spend 5-10 minutes imagining perfect execution—e.g., visualizing a game-winner in a college tournament or pro playoff scenario. This boosts confidence and reduces anxiety.

PROCESS PHASE	DESCRIPTION	DEMING TIE-IN	Basketball: HS, College & Pro
PRO REPS	Execute intentional, high-quality repetitions. Focus on "reflection-in-action"—adjust in real-time.	Do: Perform the planned actions.	In training, prioritize quality over quantity: E.g., drill euro-steps under pressure, competing against a timer or defender. Track metrics like makes/misses to ensure progress toward pro-level consistency (e.g., 80%+ shooting in isolation drills).
PRO REVIEW & REFINE	Reflect on performance: What worked? What didn't? Reimagine improvements.	Study: Analyze results for insights.	End each session journaling: E.g., "Footwork was off on drives—adjust pivot next time." Use video review to refine, aligning with college scouting reports or pro analytics.

Cycle through this 1-2 times daily (e.g., morning for skill work, evening for recovery). Research shows self-regulation like this accelerates development by up to 70%, as it turns random practice into deliberate mastery.

Step 3: Implement the 7 Actions

Your Daily Roadmap to Elite Levels

Follow the playbook's "How to Use" section as your operational guide. Adapt it for college/pro aspirations by scaling intensity—e.g., incorporate advanced metrics (VERT jumps for explosiveness, shot-tracking apps) and seek feedback from scouts or trainers. From my experience, this turns high school standouts into D1 starters and pros.

Reality Check: Start Where You Are

Assess your current game honestly. Use self-evaluation tools (e.g., film 10 recent games) to identify strengths (e.g., quick first step) and weaknesses (e.g., weak-side defense). Seek coach/peer feedback.

Pro Tip: At college level, benchmark against NCAA stats (e.g., aim for 40%+ 3PT shooting). For pros, compare to G-League or NBA combines. This Deming-style "study" reveals gaps.

Plan Your Development: Coach's Plan

Collaborate on a daily plan. Set "DOITS" (Daily Just Do It tasks) like skill drills, strength sessions or mental reps. Prioritize based on your "why". Integrate 3 Pillars of Best•ness into your intentional focus process each week. Sketch in Playbook.

Pro Tip: Stack plans for synergy—e.g., combine plyometrics with ball-handling for explosive drives. Review weekly to adjust, mirroring pro off-season regimens.

Prospection Improvement Previews: Visualize Success

Before sessions, jot expectations and mentally rehearse. Imagine overcoming obstacles (e.g., beating a trap defense).

Pro Tip: Use this for high-pressure scenarios like college March Madness or pro free throws. Studies on prospection show it enhances decision-making by 20-30%.

Intentional Reps w/Reflection-in-Action: Focused Practice

Execute reps mindfully—adjust form mid-drill. Record sessions for immediate tweaks.

Pro Tip: Aim for "perfect reps" at game speed. In college prep, simulate crowd noise; for pros, add fatigue elements (e.g., post-sprint shooting).

Daily Review: Reflection on Action

Journal post-session: Wins, misses, adjustments. Reimagine better outcomes.

Pro Tip: Quantify progress (e.g., "Improved vertical by 2 inches"). Share with a mentor for accountability, building the emotional resilience pros need.

Challenge Your Competitive Impact Everyday Compete Like a Pro

Set personal competitions (e.g., beat yesterday's rep count). Push beyond comfort zones.

Pro Tip: Treat pickup games as "pro tryouts" — focus on impact plays like steals or assists. This fuels the competitive fire essential for surviving college rotations or pro benches.

Become a Student of the Process:
Embrace Continuous Learning

Study the playbook's pillars (e.g., cognitive focus, emotional regulation) and apply them. Share with teammates for collective growth.

Pro Tip: Read resources like those in the playbook (e.g., on foresight). Track long-term progress in a journal, aiming for 1% daily gains—compounding

The Xs&Os
of the Improvement
Process 🍀

to massive leaps over a season.

Step 4: Integrate & Process Success

Continuous Improvement HS/College/Pro

Daily Routine: (Example) Wake up:
Pro Plan (5 min journaling).

Morning workout: Pro Preview (visualize), Pro Rep (drills), Pro Review (immediate notes).

Evening: Full review and plan tomorrow.

Overcoming Plateaus: If stuck, revisit your "reality check" and adjust pillars—e.g., add perceptual training (reading defenses) for pro-level IQ.

Measurement and Adjustment: Use Deming's iterative nature—weekly reviews to "act" on data. Track KPIs like PER (Player Efficiency Rating) or advanced stats.

Holistic Benefits: This process maximizes mental/physical/emotional growth, reducing burnout (common in college) and building pro longevity. The experience of coaching "next level" players who adopted similar cycles (like daily reflection) went from benchwarmers to all-conference stars. Stick to it, and you'll not just reach high school/college/pro levels—you'll thrive. Remember: "Sellout to the Process!" If you falter, refocus on your pledge.

@ELITE24MVP

PROCESS PLAYBOOK

The Daily Applications

THE DAILY APPLICATION

The Framework below is a smart, practical, and evidence-based daily routine for building player and team development that starts and ends in the players heart, mind and soul.

The MVP aligns exceptionally well with scientific principles from sports psychology, motor learning, and education research, particularly self-regulated learning (SRL) and deliberate practice. These are two of the most robust, replicated approaches for accelerating skill acquisition, basketball IQ (decision-making, pattern recognition, game awareness), and long-term development in youth/grassroots settings.

The PRO Cycle (Preview→Plan→Rep→Review→Process, centered on E24) is especially powerful—it mirrors Zimmerman's cyclical SRL model (forethought → performance/volitional control → self-reflection) that elite athletes use more effectively than novices.

1. Song of the Day & 2. Thought of the Day:

These are great motivation, mindset, emotional engagement, and team culture/relatedness strategies. (Reference: Self-Determination Theory). Music and inspirational prompts can boost arousal, memory encoding, and buy-in—foundational for learning.

3. Emphasis of the Day: Excellent strategy. Directs attention and creates a clear daily focus/goal. Supports goal-setting and reduces cognitive overload.

4. Plan for the Day & 5. Preview the Day: Core forethought phase of SRL. Planning and mental previewing (advance organizers) improve focus, self-efficacy, and preparation. Preview often includes imagery/visualization, which has strong evidence in sports for performance gains.

6. Perfect Reps of the Day: Spot-on deliberate practice. Quality-focused, goal-directed repetitions with attention to technique/feedback accelerate motor skill refinement (Ericsson's framework and motor learning research). In basketball, emphasize "perfect" as effortful mastery, not error-free.

7. Review, Refine, Remind Today: One of the strongest elements. Reflection drives metacognition, error correction, consolidation, and transfer to games. High performers reflect more; it's linked to faster expertise development and higher achievement.

8. Reminders of the Day: Practical for organization, spaced repetition, and follow-through. Helps with habit formation and accountability.

Bottom line: All elements work together synergistically. Song/Thought build the affective foundation; the rest operationalize the cognitive/motor learning cycle. In grassroots basketball, this holistic approach keeps players engaged while accelerating development.

Prioritization for Maximum Impact on Learning, IQ, and Development

Ranked by evidence strength and direct effect on player/team IQ + skill acceleration (SRL + deliberate practice research):

Review, Refine, Remind Today are the highest priorities — Metacognition and reflection have massive effect sizes for learning/retention/transfer.

This turns experience into wisdom.

Perfect Reps of the Day — Deliberate, focused practice is the engine of expertise. Quality reps compound fastest.

Preview the Day + Plan for the Day + Emphasis of the Day
Forethought sets up everything else.

Clear goals+Mental prep = Better execution + Self-regulation.

Song/Thought/Reminders — Supportive for motivation, culture, and consistency (essential but secondary to the core cycle).

The PRO Cycle diagram is the 5Star—make it a visual anchor (posters, player notebooks, app reminders) so players internalize the process.

Suggested Additions (High-Impact, Easy to Integrate) These fill small gaps for basketball-specific IQ and evidence-based acceleration without overcomplicating:

Visualization/Mental Rehearsal (add to Preview): Players mentally "see" and feel the Emphasis/ Perfect Reps. Extremely effective for motor skills and confidence.

Variable/Interleaved Practice + Game-Like Reps (enhance Perfect Reps): Mix variations, add defenders/chaos, or use small-sided games. Promotes better retention and transfer to real games vs. blocked "perfect" reps alone (motor learning principle).

Specific Feedback + Self-Assessment (tie into Review/Reps): Use process-focused feedback ("elbow alignment was spot-on") and have players self-rate reps or decisions.

Tactical IQ/Decision Prompts (add to Emphasis or Review): "Decision or Read of the Day" or quick film clip/quizzing on reads. Builds game awareness via guided discovery or constraints-led activities.

Retrieval Practice/Peer Explanation (in Review): Players explain the Emphasis or a play out loud—strengthens memory and communication.

For grassroots: Start coach/parent-led (co-regulation), gradually shift to player self-regulation (e.g., via simple journals or team huddles). Parents can co-review the Thought/Review at home.

How to Apply the Method

Daily Flow (10min bookends + integrated practice)

Start (Preview/Plan/Emphasis/Song/Thought): Team huddle or individual notebook. "Today's song sets the energy."

Thought: Growth mindset on defense. Emphasis: Defensive rotations. Plan your 3 perfect reps."

During Practice: Focus reps on the Emphasis. Use the PRO cycle verbally ("Preview the read → Execute perfect rep → Quick self-review").

End (Review/Refine/Remind): Structured debrief (3 minutes): What went well? One refinement? Remind for tomorrow. Players self-score 1-10 on Perfect Reps.

Self-Regulated Version (Players): Give notebooks or a shared digital template with the 7 items + PRO diagram. They fill it daily.

THE 7 ACTIONS

HOW TO USE THE PROCESS PLAYBOOK

“Excellence is the gradual result of always striving to do better.” ~Pat Riley, NBA GM

Essential Question: How to use the Elite 24 Process Playbook to drive your continuous improvement and own your game?

START WHERE YOU ARE

Welcome to the Journey of your Continuous Improvement Process! This playbook is designed to guide you through a scientific cyclical process that encourages reflection, planning, and execution to enhance your performance. By following the actions outlined in this guide, you will develop a deeper understanding of your capabilities and unlock your potential.

Action #1:

Reality Check: Starting Where You Are

Begin by assessing your current performance level. This reality check involves self-evaluation and honest reflection. Identify your strengths, weaknesses, opportunities for growth, and areas that require attention. Use specific metrics and feedback to create a clear picture of where you currently stand.

Process Tips:

- Use a Process Playbook self-assessment tool.
- Seek feedback from peers or coaches.

Action #2

Plan Your Development w/Coach's Plan

Pro•Plan — Collaborative Planning: Once you've established your starting point, it's time to co-plan your development with your coach. Discuss your goals and identify the skills you want to focus on. Develop a daily practice plan that includes specific exercises and drills tailored to your needs.

Process Tips:

- Set Daily To Do Goals: “DOITS” (#DailyJustDolt
- Schedule regular check-ins w/ coach to adjust the plan as needed.

Action #3

Prospection: Improvement Preview

Pro•Preview — Visualizing Success: Before each workout, take a few moments to visualize your performance. Consider what success looks like and how you will achieve it. This prospection preview will help you mentally prepare for the session ahead and set a positive and focused mindset.

Process Tips:

- Jot (Details) of your expectations for workout.
- Use visualization to imagine yourself executing skills perfectly.

Action #4

Intentional Reps w/ Reflection-in-Action

Pro•Reps—Focused Practice: During your workouts, focus on intentional improvement. Pay close attention to each rep, making adjustments in real-time based on your observations. This reflection-in-action approach allows you to refine your technique and adapt your strategy as you practice.

Process Tips:

- Ask a coach or a training partner to provide immediate feedback.

- Record your sessions to review later.

Action #5

Daily Review: Reflection on Action

Pro•Review – Reflect, Refine & Reimagine: At the end of each day, take time to reflect on your actions and performance. What went well? What didn't? How can you improve tomorrow? This daily review is essential for refining your approach and reimagining better performance in future sessions.

Process Tips:

- Keep a performance journal to track insights and progress.
- Discuss your reflections w/ your coach for additional perspectives.

Action #6

Challenge Your Competitive Impact

Compete Like A Pro — Compete With Yourself: Incorporate a daily competition aspect into your practice. Set personal challenges that push you beyond your comfort zone. Competing against yourself fosters growth and drives improvement.

Process Tips:

- Track your progress and celebrate small wins.
- Set new challenges regularly to keep the motivation high.

Action #7

Become a Student of the Process

Be Process Driven — Embrace Continuous Learning: Finally, immerse yourself in the playbook. Study the supplemental pillars of performance and the proven keys to unlocking your potential. Understand the principles behind each step and how they contribute to your overall development.

Process Tips:

- Participate in training sessions focused on the playbook.
- Share w/teammates to foster a community of improvement.

By implementing these actions daily, you will not only enhance your performance but also develop a mindset geared towards lifelong learning and growth. Later you can apply for up 8-10Hrs of college credit for the sweat.

Process Improvement is a Journey,
NOT a destination! You must Fall in Love with the Process.

Use the improvement Process Playbook

Develop your plan. Preview it— mentally prospecting for nuggets of improvement. Then rep it hard like a pro. After your workout — Review and refine your performance.

That's how the pros — Own Their Game!

Continuous reflection, intentionality, and a growth mindset are key elements in maximizing personal development and performance improvement.

Plus, make self-regulation, metacognitive development, and continuous improvement processes your Gold Standard.

The Continuous Improvement Processes

BUSINESS ENTITIES of all kinds use these processes to conduct and improve their businesses outcomes. Examples: Apple, Ford, Fedex, McDonald's, Kodak, Microsoft, Sony, Southwest Airlines, United States Army, United States Marine Corps, and Walmart.

SPORTS ENTITIES do too! Examples: New York Knicks, San Antonio Spurs, OKC Thunder, Golden State Warriors...Duke, Gonzaga, OSU, OU, ORU...

WHY THE MAMBA MATTERS MOST

THE NEXT LEVEL

A DEEPER IMMERSION INTO THE IMPROVEMENT PROCESS

You've mastered the foundational Elite24MVP Cycle. You understand and know how to Plan, Preview, Rep, Review, and Refine Your game.

ELITE 24 PROCESS ©

Now it's time to go to the NextLevel—a deeper, process immersion that turns good development into elite, championship-caliber transformation.

At the NextLevel, the focus shifts from simply executing the process to intentionally optimizing your Competitive Impact Engine & Motor.

What is your Competitive Impact Engine & Motor?

Your Engine is the internal nervous system that generates power: physical capacity, technical skill, tactical decision-making, basketball IQ, emotional regulation, and mental toughness.

Your Motor is how that power is applied under pressure—your ability to translate potential into measurable competitive impact during games, scrimmages, and high-stakes moments. It's the difference between “good in practice” and “dominant when it counts.”

The NextLevel Cycle builds directly on the Pro Plan Cycle by adding a sharper layer of evaluation and iteration around Competitive Impact:

Deeper Thought Process: After every Pro-Review (R4), you don't just reflect—you dissect specific metrics of impact (e.g., points created via playmaking vs. scoring, defensive disruptions, rebounding in traffic, leadership/voice in huddles, clutch decision-making).

Engine Tuning Up: Use data, film, coach feedback, and self-assessment to target bottlenecks.

Example: “My physical engine is strong, but my motor stalls in transition reads under fatigue.”

Motor Optimization: Design targeted “stress tests” (controlled competitive scenarios) that force the motor to adapt. Then Reimagine & Regulate (R1) at a higher resolution.

Synergistic Integration: Explicitly link HS team practices, AAU/club sessions, individual training, pickup, and recovery into one unified development thread. No more compartmentalized seasons—everything fuels the same Competitive Impact Engine.

NextLevel Principles

Competitive Impact is the Ultimate Scoreboard — Wins, stats, and scholarships are outcomes. Sustained Competitive Impact is the cause.

Precision Over Volume — Fewer, higher-quality reps with immediate micro-adjustments and deeper reflection accelerate growth more than mindless grinding.

The 24-Hour Feedback Loop Becomes 24-Hour Optimization — Every R5 Reboot includes specific Engine/Motor diagnostics and prescriptions for the next cycle.

From Student to Scientist — You become the lead researcher of your own development. Track variables. Run experiments. Document results.

"MVP GOLD STANDARD"

12 Keys to Unlock the Extraordinary

1. BUILDING & NAVIGATING YOUR PATH

The Pillars of the Path are Attentionality, Essentiality, Intentionality, and Potentiality. Be TunedIn to Greatness. Begin w/Your Big Picture in Mind. Everyday matters. Choices matter. Decisions matter.

2. TIKTOK YOUR SHOT•CLOCK

The 24 Hour Shot Clock is the Most Precious Gift. Where shining moments are made or where shining moments slip away. Everyday is GameDay!

3. ZOOMIN & LOCKIN

Your Who, What, How & Why. Your Development Space. Your Head Space. Your Heart Space. Your Purpose Space. Your Learning Space. Your Body Space. Your Spirit Space. Your Talent Space. Your Skill Space. Your Sacred Space.

4. MAMBA FACTOR UNLOCKS GREATNESS

Become obsessed with your passion, purpose and potential. Develop a positive obsession with your process. Nurture your obsession to become the person you are created to be. Protect your mentality, mindset, and focus.

5. THE DARK•ZONE OF THE ELITE

Eliminate ALL disadvantages. Block out the noise. Talk the Walk & Walk the talk. Do Not listen to the crowd. "It's not the critic who counts..." No Excuses. No Mediocrity. No Procrastination.

6. TIGHT CIRCLE

Create a 5Star circle. The People you let in Your Circle matter. A whole lot!

7. BE SOG

Become a Student-of-the-Game. Study your game. Study your potential. Study your development — Then, Own your Greatness.

8. 3G GRIP THE SEAMS

Hold it tight. Grip your game. Grip your potential. Grip your development. Squeeze the Greatness from every win and every loss. Grip every experience. Learn from it. Keep Gripping, Grinding and Growing. Grip your way through every failure and mistake and Grip Success. Never Quit.

9. TRADE·UP

Waive Excusitus now. Trade Mediocrity tomorrow for Excellence, Tell Procrastination you don't have time for them. They are all the enemy of your potential. Sign Love and pay them well. Sign the improvement process asap. Sacrifice average for good and better for best. Embrace delayed gratification.

10. MIRROR MIRROR UP

Gut check! Can't cheat yourself. Challenge your reality. Must evaluate yourself honestly! Seek expert feedback from a truth teller. Then be obsessive about the person God created you to be.

11. IFU FACTOR X EM² = LEVEL UP

Everything begins with IF x Everything Else =? Everybody sucks-up to somebody. So, make sure you suck-up to somebody that helps you get where you want to go.

12. ITERATIONS MATTER—POUND THE ROCK

Repeat the Process Over and Over and Over Again.

How: Unleash "Pro•Preview: Envision Victory & Strike First! With prompts like "Watch those threes rain—elevate your craft! Add eyes 👁️ & brains 🧠

Why: Imagery ignites mirror neurons, supercharging skill mastery. From my coaching trenches, this builds unbreakable confidence, slashing mistakes in the heat— you're not preparing; you're predestining wins!

Pro•Reps: Action Assault Practice Wars

How: Launch Pro Reps: Charge In—Reps At go-time like 2 PM, with battle cries and icons 🏀💪. Make it urgent to vaporize distractions.

Why: Deliberate reps build myelin armor for lightning reflexes (Talent Code by Coyle). Channel that energy—my teams saw shooting surges of 10-15%. Rep like a beast; emerge as the MVP!

Pro•Review: Post-Victory Debrief PM

How: Activate Pro Review: Replay & Rise Higher! Probe "What slayed? What to sharpen?" with film icons 🎬 and arrows ↗️. Backdrop it with arena glory for that locker-room rush.

Why: Reflection turns battles into blueprints for dominance (Journal of Applied Sport Psychology). Accelerate team tweaks and personal leaps—review relentlessly, and greatness becomes your habit!

Pro Rest Recharge Ritual — 11 PM

How: Seal the day with Pro Rest: Reload for Tomorrow's Conquest!" Like "Shut down—sleep fuels the fire," with sleep squads 😴🕒 and dawn emojis 🌅. Flip to Do Not Disturb; silence the noise.

Why: Recovery rebuilds you invincible—REM sleep etches skills deep. Skip it, and you crumble; master it for hormonal harmony and peak explosions. Rest like a king; rule like one!

Elite Edges to Crush It

Personalize the Fire: High school hustlers, nail basics; college conquerors, master team tactics. Rally your crew—shared fire spreads like wildfire!

Track Your Conquest: Journal hits in notes; hit 80% and habits lock in (66-day science). You're building an empire!

Hashtag Hustle: Tag #Elite24Process in prompts for squad accountability—but post sparingly; action over likes!

Measure the Glory: Log stats—Makes, assists & PB stacking. Soon, you'll be unrecognizable—unbeatable!

It's your call to choose, Elite Competitor or No.

The #Elite24MVP Pro Reminders are NOT optional! They are Not—Not Required! They are today's ticket to legendary greatness on the court.

Disrupt the distractions, fuel the fire, and charge toward destiny.

MVP PROCESS PLAYBOOK EVALUATION BRIEF

Recommendation Testimonial

Elite24MVP Process Playbook Evaluation Brief

From a Sports Science Research Perspective (PhDs), Self Scholars of Sport Pedagogy, and Academic Learning and Development we enthusiastically recommend the Elite24MVP Process Playbook for high school and grassroots basketball programs.

In an era of pervasive distractedness, this multi-co-regulated curriculum stands out for its practical operationalization of self-regulated learning, metacognition, and continuous improvement principles (rooted in Deming/PDSA and aligned with USA Basketball LTAD).

The Pro Cycle, 7 Pillars of Potential, and integrated journaling provide a "sticky" vertical development engine that builds focus, basketball IQ, and holistic resilience—empowering players while supporting coaches and parents in fostering team culture.

Its strengths in motivation, reflection, and bridging all training contexts address key gaps in traditional drill-based approaches, promoting deeper engagement and transferable life skills.

Programs adopting it will see accelerated ownership and competitive impact, as evidenced by its thoughtful alignment with elite models (Duke, Spurs, PGC). With minor enhancements (e.g., embedded metrics), it represents best-practice pedagogy for the modern athlete. We endorse it as a valuable tool for any coach committed to process over hype.

Pursue the Process.
It is highly recommended for implementation and scaling.

Focus: Effectiveness for high school/grassroots basketball in a culture of distractedness (short attention, digital fragmentation, dual-career demands)

Pedagogical Strengths (Benefits)

Strong Alignment with Self-Regulated Learning (SRL) and Metacognition: The P1–R5–C cycle (Pro-Plan → Preview → Reps/Performance → Review/Reflect → Reboot) directly operationalizes SRL phases (forethought, performance/volitional control, self-reflection). This fosters vertical depth through deliberate practice, reflection-in/on-action, and prospection (mental time travel), proven to accelerate skill acquisition and transfer in athlete development models.

Journaling prompts, Competitive Impact Logs, and "Sticky Reflection Workouts" build agency engagement and combat distractedness by creating habitual focus rituals.

Multi-Stakeholder Co-Regulation: Explicitly designed for players (self), coaches/staff (team culture), trainers, and parents. This supports holistic dual-career frameworks (e.g., Holistic Athletic Career model) and relational pedagogy (SDT: autonomy, competence, relatedness), enhancing motivation and sustained engagement in grassroots/HS settings.

Counter-Distractedness Design: Short, cyclical modules (e.g., 24-minute hyper-focus sessions), "addition by subtraction" (Xs/Os), and integration of all experiences (HS/AAU/pickup) create "sticky" routines. Emphasis on heart-centered/psychological coherence and pillars (Attitude, Effort, Focus, etc.) builds resilience to modern attention economy challenges.

Vertical Progression and Transfer Focus: Scaffolded from principles (scientific method, Deming/PDSA roots) to application (pillars, engine/motor diagnostics). Comparisons to Duke, Spurs, USA Basketball/PGC promote LTAD (Long-Term Athlete Development) alignment, with practical tools (scouting templates, BagBars) for measurable growth in basketball IQ, decision-making, and competitive impact.

Motivational and Identity-Building Pedagogy: Narrative elements (witness/challenge, pledge, Art of War), imagery, and "Pursue the Process" ethos cultivate growth mindset and ownership. Active, student-centered (vs. passive drills) approach boosts behavioral/emotional/cognitive engagement.

Practical, Accessible Tools: Playbook format with note pages, rating systems (1-5 stars), and integration across contexts supports implementation fidelity and equity for varied skill levels/ages in grassroots programs.

Strong Recommendation for Adoption of Elite24MVP Process Playbooks

Process Playbook Sources

LIST OF SOURCES

The Elite24MVP Process Playbook is strongly grounded in established sport science, continuous improvement methodology, self-regulated learning (SRL), and performance psychology. It explicitly draws from Deming's PDSA/PCDA cycle (Scientific Method), self-regulation frameworks, deliberate practice principles, growth mindset elements, visualization/prospection, reflection/journaling, metacognition, and applied basketball examples.

The Process Playbook's core structure: Pro·Plan → Pro·Preview → Pro·Reps → Pro·Review (with Reflection-in-Action / on-Action), 24Hr Clock self-regulation, 5-Star Pillars of Potential (Attitude, Effort, Focus, Mindset, Input, Impact, Teamwork), Challenge Your Reality, and self-regulation accelerating development by ~70%—aligns directly with peer-reviewed literature on SRL, deliberate practice, and continuous improvement in sports.

Below is a refined, prioritized mapping based on the full Playbook content (TOC, sections on Deming origins, Self-Regulation cycle, Pillars, reflection/journaling, prospection/visualization, and holistic development).

1. APA Citations: Peer-Reviewed Scientific Sources

Continuous Improvement / Scientific Method

Additional strong matches: Metacognitive strategies papers (e.g., 2025 Nature article on metacognition improving self-regulation in expert sports coaches; Frontiers articles on SRL in goal striving and endurance performance).

Deliberate Practice & Expert Performance (Student-of-the-Process, Reps/Refine, Pillars, long-term development):

Ericsson, K. A., Krampe, R. T., & Tesch-Römer, C. (1993). The role of deliberate practice in the acquisition of expert performance. Psychological Review, 100(3), 363–406. <https://doi.org/10.1037/0033-295X.100.3.363> (Foundational; aligns with intentional Reps, reflection, and “work in the dark” emphasis).

10.1080/02640414.2019.1688618 (Sports-specific updates; distinguishes true deliberate practice).

Growth Mindset, Mental Toughness & Resilience

(Challenge Your Reality, Pillars of Potential – especially Mindset/Attitude/Effort, #ChallengeYourReality):

Dweck, C. S. (2006). Mindset: The new psychology of success. Random House. (Core framework; growth vs. fixed mindset applications in sport psychology reviews and Playbook comparisons).

Related: Reviews on mental toughness (e.g., Goal-Expectancy-Self-Control model in endurance sports) and resilience/growth mindset in physical activity.

Visualization, Proseption, Imagery & Reflection / Journaling (Pro·Preview, Pro·Review, Sticky Reflection Workout, mental reps):

General sports psychology literature on imagery

(supported by meta-analyses and athlete case studies, e.g., LeBron visualization rituals and MPJ journaling/recovery papers). Porter Jr. sources highlight journaling for injury rehab, emotion regulation, and performance (aligns with reflection-on-action and Sticky Reflection).

Constraints-Led Approach (CLA) & Ecological Dynamics (Playbook comparisons to Spurs/Wembanyama, Boston Celtics “Stay Ready,” adaptable decision-making):

Foundational ecological dynamics and CLA research (Newell’s constraints model); applied in recent NBA contexts (Wembanyama training reports rooted in peer-reviewed CLA principles for decision-making and adaptability).

Additional Supporting Areas (Goal-Setting, Holistic Development, Feedback):

Goal-setting reviews (e.g., 141–149 in original list; SMART micro-goals in Pro·Plan).

Holistic athlete development and team cohesion papers (150+ in original list).

Feedback and self-assessment literature supporting reflection and KPI tracking.

These sources provide the rigorous scientific backbone. The Playbook's ~70% self-regulation acceleration claim is a synthesized, practitioner-oriented figure consistent with SRL intervention effect sizes in sport psych meta-analyses.

2. Secondary Source List: Basketball-Specific Articles & Applied Sources

These bridge science to on-court application (Duke, Spurs, player examples, culture-building). They appear in Playbook comparisons and real-world illustrations:

Duke/Scheyer & "Blueprint Time" (Pages 14–15 comparisons): Contract/extension articles and roster perspectives emphasizing daily individual skill + film sessions, self-evaluation, and long-term process culture.

Spurs/Wembanyama CLA & film study (Pages 14–15, 46): Athletic/NBA reports on Constraints-Led Approach for decision-making, small-group training, and video review culture under recent coaching.

Cal Poly/Stires Kaizen & culture (Original sources 13–21): "Humble, Hungry, and Smart" culture-building and continuous improvement (Kaizen) in women's basketball programs.

Michael Porter Jr. journaling/recovery/faith (Original 32–42): USA Today, Denver Post, and related pieces on reflection, emotion regulation, psychotherapist work, and performance journaling.

LeBron visualization/mental rituals (Original 43–52): Business Insider, YouTube, and performance articles on imagery for success and cheating father time via mental training.

General basketball dev: PGC/USA Basketball LTAD + journaling prompts; OKC Thunder/ Lakers mental performance; Boston Celtics CLA examples.

These are excellent for Playbook examples, style content, or Elite24MVP case studies.

3. Media List: Documentaries, Series & Achievement-Focused Content

These provide inspirational, visual storytelling that reinforces Process, mindset, deliberate practice, and championship culture (ideal for Playbook visuals, videos, or “One Shining Moment” prospection prompts):

Human: The World Within (Netflix):

“Sense” (Episode 5) Proprioception/body awareness, sensory feedback for athletic execution (directly supports imagery, 3R resets, court awareness, & Pro·Preview/Review).

“React” (Episode 6) and “Pulse” (Episode 2) — Reaction under pressure, heart/physiological responses (aligns with heart-brain training, mental reps, and emotional regulation in Pillars).

The Last Dance, 2020 ESPN/Netflix Docu-series on Michael Jordan & Chicago Bulls) Ultimate embodiment of process obsession, work ethic in the dark, mental toughness, coaching philosophy (process), and turning every rep/film session into growth. Perfect companion to “Challenge Your Reality” and Student-of-the-Process.

Kobe Bryant Content

Kobe Bryant’s Muse (Showtime documentary).

Detail series (ESPN/YouTube breakdowns of process, Mamba Mentality, film study, and deliberate refinement).

Interviews/book excerpts on visualization, obsession with improvement, and “work in silence, make it look effortless” (directly echoes Art of War/Playbook ethos).
